

Toots Sweet!

Well, not quite. If tout de suite actually means 'immediately', then a few years is probably not going to cut it.

So, the good thing is the new Talunga Park amenities block is finally under construction, the bad thing is – it took years to get there. Admittedly, one of the last hold ups was due to upgrading the specs on the advice of a local builder, so that maintenance would be minimised, and it would be of a more robust construction. We think it's definitely worth it as you can see from the photos.

It's been a long road, but hopefully this will be the start of some changes that will be seen around Talunga Park in the not too distant future. MP Inc. and The Barossa Council are working together to gain the best outcomes from The Big Project and other initiatives.

Progress Association AGM

The first AGM of the newly formed Mount Pleasant Progress Association will be held on Tuesday 13th June at 7.30 pm in the SM Hall.

The interim Board has been working closely with the Barossa Council on transferring of management systems of both major facilities in the town, Talunga Park and the Soldiers Memorial Hall to the Inc. body. There is now an MOU between the Inc. body and the Council in relation to the support/management for the caretaker of both sites, Dave Mac. The Inc. body meets with him regularly to ensure that he has the information and support he requires to manage the facilities.

The constitution of the Inc. body is available on request, or on the Mount Pleasant web site.

The Inc. body has 4 current subcommittees. The Talunga Park subcommittee is responsible for providing advice on the issues of the Caravan Park and Rec Park, the SM Hall committee for advice about the Hall, the Community Dinner subcommittee organises the monthly dinners and the Christmas Street Party subcommittee is to be formed to organise this great annual event.

Anyone who is interested in being part of this dynamic town group is encouraged to contact Genevieve Hebart, (current Secretary) via email on chebart@bigpond.com, who will provide them with information, a copy of the constitution and a nomination form as required.

The link to the constitution can be found under the Mount Pleasant Progress Association in Community Groups at:

Talunga Park Bike Track

Are you aware there is a bike track for public use at Talunga Park?

At the moment Talunga Park and the Soldier's memorial Hall share a caretaker, and although he is doing a sterling job (it is a HUGE area), it takes more time to manage than the Council is willing to fund. If you are able to help, perhaps have a whipper-snipper you wouldn't mind using to help tackle the weed problem, your efforts would be appreciated immensely by your community.

Please see Dave Maczkowiack if you are able to help.

MPNRC recycling initiative

Do you know that even if you put all the right things in your recycling bin, that a lot of it will still go to landfill? Things like alfoil – if not in a large enough bundle will not be sorted. Check out the new recycling bins at the MPNRC to make sure your recycling is going where it should.

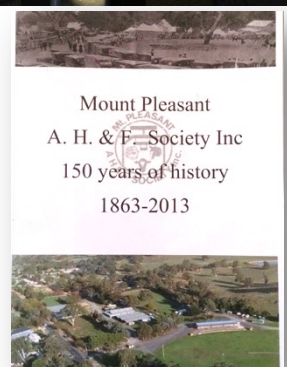

Show book

Copies of the MP Show book are still available!

Priced at only @ $25, this is a bargain and a valuable record of one of South Australia's most popular and enduring local shows.

Hospital news

Opening of the refurbished courtyard

Thanks to the kind generosity of The Friends of Mt. Pleasant Hospital, the Torrens Valley Lions Club and the Australian Lions Foundation, the courtyard at Mt. Pleasant Hospital has been upgraded to a functional and much more pleasant area. Over an extended period of time - due to some extreme wet weather which held up the screeding of the paving sand - the labour of the Lions under the guidance and minor assistance of Facility Manager Andy Lynas, has turned the once overgrown and potentially unsafe space, into a visually pleasing and comfortable area. As soon as it was completed the residents in the Residential Aged Care Facility at the Hospital couldn't wait to use it prior to the official opening on 30/3/17 with an Australia Day celebration in late January. Many residents like to enjoy the fresh air, and several gather to enjoy lunch together when the weather permits.

A water feature has been installed to replace the former pond and the available space has doubled, with plenty of room for wheelchairs and walkers. One large table has been replaced with 4 smaller tables to create a café atmosphere – and all reports have been very favourable.

Anzac Dawn Service

The 25th dawned overcast and cool – but thankfully - mostly - rain free for our annual Dawn Service.

The RSL welcomed the 300+ strong crowd and Pastor Brian Teakle led those assembled through the service. Once again the Air Force cadets provided a catafalque party as we paused to commemorate those service men and women who served and are still serving, and those who have fallen in conflicts past and ongoing.

After the service we adjourned to the Hall for a Gunfire Breakfast – which once again proved hugely popular thanks to the RSL ladies and the gentlemen from the Men's Shed.

Many thanks once again to the indefatigable Merry Schaeffer and her committee (including Mike and Dan Williams, Roger & Collette Benton, Peter & George Ann Kaines, who organised the event, and Wally and Marie Birch for arranging the fantastic raffle.).

To support the RSL, you don't have to be a serving or former member of our armed forces, people in the RSL come from all walks of life and get together for meetings and social occasions.

Boots For Change Project Wins 2017 Philanthropy Australia Award

The Australian Farmers' Markets Association (AFMA) national BOOTS FOR CHANGE 2016 project has been highly acclaimed at the 2017 Philanthropy Australia Awards winning SPECIAL MENTION in the BEST SMALL GRANT category (under $50,000).

BOOTS FOR CHANGE was enabled by a Foundation for Rural Regional Renewal (FRRR) $10,000 grant in conjunction with the ABC Heywire rural youth leadership program.

- National total spend at 96 BFC Market Days = $17.37 million.
- Economic impact = $17.77million
- Social media audience reach 1.75million
- 99% market managers expressed project satisfaction
- 48% markets increased shopper numbers at BFC Market Days
- 45% markets attracted more families and younger shoppers
- 180,000+ shoppers attended BFC Market Days
- 3000+ farmer and artisan producers attended BFC Market Days

BOOTS FOR CHANGE Market Days ran throughout April 2016 in 56 farmers' markets Australia-wide that hosted a total of 96 markets and engaged 3000-plus farmer and artisan food stallholders reaching 180,000-plus shoppers in all states.

Given the award-winning success of the inaugural project, AFMA a not-for-profit incorporated association staffed by volunteers, is hoping to secure BOOTS FOR CHANGE as a headland biennial national program. This will require the support of government and on-going generosity from the philanthropy sector. Pledges are sought by 30 June 2017 to enable BOOTS FOR CHANGE to kick-off again in April 2018. There are over 180 farmers' markets trading regularly in all states. For more details visit

TWILIGHT MARKET

It's not always about the chocolate – our Easter Twilight Market is a great place to meet up and chat and maybe even share a meal with friends while listening to some great music. Many of our stallholders had produced some great Easter specials and market goers could purchase dinner from several stalls, including the wonderful Breakfast mob from the Atrium who proved that they can cook more than eggs!

Meanwhile the Chicago Showband (who some of you might remember from the Street Party) was on hand to entertain us while we shopped and ate.

Amazing to think how far our wonderful market has come in such a short time. It is truly a great community asset!

Men's Shed-ding

Or the origins of The Mt Pleasant Gentleman's Club Inc...

There is no doubt that the initial work of Mount Pleasant Men's Shed is unique in that our shed has been built from the ground up by members. But is it enough?

In November 2012, a like-minded group of men met to discuss the proposition of building a Men's Shed in Mount Pleasant. It was decided that a steering committee be formed, chaired by Bob Long, to gauge the interest in the town, look for a property that would be suitable for a Men's Shed and to formulate a plan to move forward. First on the list was finance as, whatever route was taken, we would need a sizeable bank balance. The Mount Pleasant Men's Shed (MPMS) was incorporated in February 2013.

As there were no suitable buildings available in Mount Pleasant, and after discussions with the Barossa Council, a block of land on Old Talunga Park was proposed as a possible site to build a Men's Shed. And so the journey began. Members of Men's Sheds come from all walks of life. However, we were way out in front with builders, a plumber, an electrician, an architect and back-up technicians all with special abilities, men looking for an alternative. Plans were drawn up, a budget estimate prepared for Council, fundraising undertaken, more meetings with Council, an inaugural AGM held in May 2014 and slowly our proposition became a reality. In December 2015 President Colin Forbes and The Barossa Council representative Jo Thomas signed the lease for the land on site, and since then the MPMS has worked in tandem with The Barossa Council to facilitate our project.

The MPMS clubrooms truly have been built from the ground up. Our members underwent chainsaw training and cut pinus pinasta trees from the forest, local businessman Tom Campaniello carted the logs to Bob Long's property, MPMS members milled the logs into planks and had the timber cured and certified ready for construction. At all times, MPMS members worked under the Australian Men's Shed Association, Work Health and Safety guidelines.

As the curing of the timber took 12 months, the fundraising went into top gear. Our main income was from the sale of quality red gum firewood sourced locally, split to requirements, carted to client's home and stacked as requested. We also raised money by working on community projects, small renovations and demolitions, always mindful of local businesses.

Preparation for the build continued. Fill for our site was given by local farmers Trevor and Diane Anderson and carted to site by GE Hughes Construction who we contracted to prepare the foundations and lay the slab. When the slab had cured, using our own seasoned timber, the walls went up and the first meeting held on site in our Shed. Roof trusses were sourced and added to the framework and the roof went on with the help of Secretary Don Barrett's son, Lachy, a roofer by trade. The walls, windows, doors and verandahs puts our build to lock-up stage. Then, during discussion centred around a leather lounge suite donated by Doug Johnston, one thing led to another, Les Fisher put forward a motion, it was carried and it happened. And the Mount Pleasant Men's Shed changed... Les Fisher's proposal confirmed that members of the Mount Pleasant Men's Shed were looking towards a more relaxed atmosphere for our club after the years of privation building the shed. With Les' proposal, work on the interior of our shed has taken a different course from the original vision. John Bowd and Barry Liddicoat would supervise the changes as the building is insulated and lined. Hartley Ramm's electrical design has been amended to include subdued lighting and chandeliers and Peter Shaw's plumbing plan adjusted to ensure a constant supply of filtered rainwater to our cocktail bar, bathrooms, spa, sauna and hot tub. (to be continued)

Book launch: THOSE WILD RABBITS

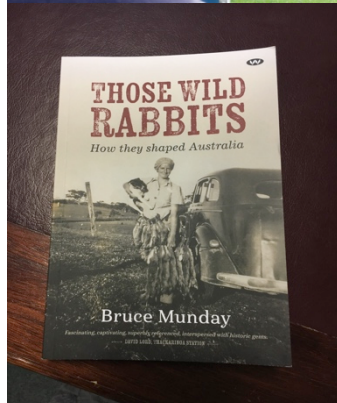

It was a mild autumn afternoon, and the call had gone out that a book launch was to be on... Bruce Munday had put pen to paper once more and produced, with the support of The Foundation for Rabbit Free Australia, a screed telling the history of the rabbit and its introduction to Australia. With many a tale told by those who have experienced rabbits in plague proportions interspersed with the scientific story of its introduction and spread across Australia, the story of rabbits is told in 'Those Wild Rabbits: How they shaped Australia', with a front cover of Eva Burton (nee Gower) with Trixie (her dog) and their catch of rabbits at Tungkillio in 1948.

People came in ones and twos to the beautiful gardens of Glen Devon and with MC Ian Doyle the proceedings were kept on track. Hugh McLachlan, owner of the property, spoke of his experience in attempting to eradicate rabbits on the property at Paratoo, near Yunta, and ABC Landline aficionado Prue Adams, who has had a long history of reporting the issue of the rabbit, officially launched the book before we heard a little from Bruce Munday, about his experience in writing the book. And those who had an opportunity to read the book prior to the launch all say 'it is a bloody good read'.

The evening soon ventured in and people gradually dispersed, book in hand, with many, I am sure, beginning to read of the tale of the rabbit later in the day. The book is available from Wakefield Press, and I am sure, an enquiry at the library would soon find one on their shelves for borrowing.

Those Wild Rabbits highlights not only the damage done but also Australia's missed opportunities for real rabbit control. It recognises the bush's paradoxical love affair with an animal that was at one time a significant rural industry and is still recalled with nostalgia. More importantly, it offers hope for a brighter future, making the case for continued research to drive the next rabbit-control miracle, because rabbit plagues of the past will become the future unless we capture the history and embrace the lessons.

Uncovering MPs' past:

*Crikey – they played
Croquet – back in the day!*

Did you know that Mount Pleasant had a croquet club?

The book Quiet Waters By records women playing croquet on courts on Talunga Park in 1920. Mrs. Charles Wellsman, the Bank of Adelaide Manager was reported to have a group of women playing in the early 1900's before the Talunga courts were officially laid.

The Register of Saturday 29th January 1921 states that at the Annual General Meeting of the Talunga Park it was reported that the cricketers had a fine pitch, the tennis club had two excellent courts and the ladies had fine piece of lawn for playing croquet. In 1924 there were reports of fund raising for a hut to contain equipment; dances and tournaments being popular fundraisers.

In 1936 it was reported that the lawn had fallen into disrepair so games were played at Mr. W. Hood's property, where he had prepared a bowling green and croquet lawn. A game was played between Gumeracha and Mount Pleasant with a win to the home team 57 points to 50.

In 1925 the opening match of the season was played on the lawns of Rosebank by invitation of the Hon. R.T Melrose. £4 was raised for the upkeep of the lawns.

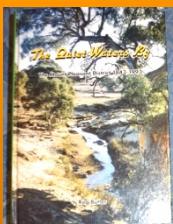

Reports of official games disappeared after 1938.

Bags of fun with TOTT

Top of the Torrens Theatre Group has a new director and two new members which is creating lots of enthusiasm and new energy in their upcoming production this June with a farcical comedy about money, diamonds and bloomers!

Set in 1904, New York the play is called 'THREE

BAGS FULL' and starts with an ambitious young employer attempting to exchange $500,000 worth of embezzled wealth for the position of manager and the hand of his boss's daughter in marriage.

Many twists and turns ensue when it is revealed that it is not the young lady of the house that he is in love with and hilarious mix ups caused by three identical bags containing respectively cash, diamonds, and the bloomers belonging to the resigning maid. Add to that, rebellious pregnant young ladies, mistaken identities and many farcical situations and you end up with lots of merry mayhem and explosive hilarity.

The ticket prices still haven't changed so it's a great value night out, and the cabaret style seating allows you plenty of room to spread out your BYO drinks and nibbles.
